If you are "on foot" a lot and want to look stylish without being in pain, a Piedi, created by designer Mariam Syed, is for you. A one-stop online shop for flat footwear, the range on the site is affordable while being luxurious and fashion forward.

The impetus of the brand came when Mariam had three children and retired from the banking world so being on her feet all day and wanting to start a business, a Piedi was born. There is plenty to love about the shoes on the site but we at Glam are enamoured with the simple Amy shoes in gold and the rose appliqué on the Amelia and the gladiator Zahara styles. From £35.
