Return Policy

We want you to be at peace with what you order. If you're not satisfied with your purchase, please return the item(s) for an exchange refund or credit. All returns must be made within 15 days of placing your order. Please fill out the return form completely and send with your returned order. Indicate what you're returning and why so that we may better serve you.

Please let us know if you would like to return your item(s) for an exchange, refund, or credit. In order to process your return, please include your name, email address and order number along with the items that you're returning. This information will allow us to contact you, if necessary regarding the return. You'll be responsible for the shipping charges associated with sending the return back to us. If you're asking for an exchange, we'll send your replacement item(s) at no charge. If the item(s) you request is not available when the return is processed, we will issue you credit here at Unwritten. If you do not want the credit, you can email us and change it out for a refund or a different item(s). If you're asking for a refund, you'll only be reimbursed for the item(s) returned. The original shipping cost is non-refundable. Purchased items are determined unreturnable if worn, washed, or have sustained damage by the customer All returned items must be in the original condition you received them in or the return will be sent back to you.
