At the banquet to celebrate All Hallow's Eve, the queen of the trolls, began to quarrel with the queen of the goblins over who would receive the last magic pumpkin pie to take back for their children waiting at home. The goblin queen grabbed the pie out of the hands of the other wicked fairy and rushed back to her cottage to present the delicious gift to her family- only to find six Halloween jack o' lanterns sitting on her doorstep - each child was transformed into a scary faced pumpkin as the troll queen secretly cast a spell of revenge.

We've broken her spell, by placing their faces on to our trickster treat caramels to give the story
a sweet and happy ending.
